BOY SCOUTS BOOST TAG DAY

Griffith and Johnson to Sell Tags to Help the Boy Scouts Movement.

THOUSAND BOYS WILL ASSIST

For the purpose of raising funds for the benefit of the Boy Scouts of the city, tag day will be observed in Washington today. More than 1,500 boys will tramp the streets of the city from early morning until late at night offering the tags for sale. It is expected that 75,000 will be disposed of during the day.

Project is a large one, and extensive plans have been made. Never before will the National Capital have witnessed a tag day conducted on so large a scale. Plans have been under way for months, and it is expected that the sales to-day will be conducted without a hitch. For the purpose of interesting the boys of the city in the tag day project, free excursion was given to River View the latter part of last week. Nearly 500 boys went and each not only promised to aid in the sale of tags, but to get companions likewise to assist.

The boys will start early. Six big touring cars will leave the Boy Scouts' headquarters in the Metropolitan Bank Building in Fifth Street, between F and G Streets Northwest, at 7:30 o'clock this morning loaded with large supplies of tags. The 1,500 boys who have signified their willingness to aid in the sale of the tags have been assigned to positions in various sections of the city. They will be at these designated places by 8 o'clock this morning.

Motor Cars to Help.
Throughout the day these cars will be kept busy visiting the various juvenile salesmen and replenishing their supplies of tags. Some of the boys have been assigned to positions in department stores, some will take up positions on busy street corners, others will make tours of business houses, and still others will wander about from house to house.

One of the features of the day will be the sale of tags by eight members of the Washington baseball team. The names of the players have not been announced in full, but they will be led by Clark Griffith, Walter Johnson, and Schaefer, the "fuzzy man." The ball players will distribute the tags from automobiles. They will start from the corner of Fifteenth Street and New York Avenue Northwest, about 11 o'clock this morning in touring cars. The ball players will proceed slowly down Fifteenth Street to Pennsylvania Avenue, east to Eighth Street Southeast, and thence south to the Navy Yard. Along the way the players will sell the tags.

They then will reach the Navy Yard just at noon as the thousands of employees are filing out for their lunch hour. While Griffith and Johnson and the other members of the Nationals are selling tags to the Navy Yard men, Schaefer will give a rare demonstration of his ability as a comedian. He will sing and dance and enact a thousand monkey shins which are bound to bring laughter from the bystanders.

Autographed Tags.
The ball players have signed several thousand tags, which will be sold at special rates. The regular tags will cost five cents each, whereas those bearing the much-prized signatures will be sold for ten cents. Hours tags will be sold for twenty-five cents, and fifty cents will be asked for the big office and automobile tags.

Returns from the sale of the tags will be made to the headquarters of the Boy Scouts in the Metropolitan Bank Building, and to the various branches of the United States Trust Company. The banks will be kept open for their usual in order to receive the full returns at once. The Boy Scouts headquarters will remain open until late into the night.

The money derived from the sales will be used to further the interests of the Boy Scouts of the city. A large part of the receipts will be expended upon the summer camp at River View, a new institution, which will be opened July 1. It was announced last night that this camp had been named Camp Archibald Butt in memory of the brave aide to the President who went down to a heroic death in the Atlantic when the great Titanic was lost.

The camp will remain open until the latter part of September. Many boys will spend the entire season at the camp, while others will visit the place of recreation for one week. It is expected that there will be fifty boys in the camp throughout the summer. M. P. Junkin will be in charge of the youngest campers. While plans were being perfected yesterday for tag day three spirited youngsters, who announced that they were Boy Scouts from Haysburg, Pa., made their appearance at the local headquarters. The boys came to Washington on bicycles. The entire trip cost them only $1.50. The boys announced in parting that they would take an active part in the selling of the tags to-day.

District to Use Traps For Catching Stray Cats

Commissioners Plan Along New Lines to Catch Wandering Felines; Cat Club Up in Arms at Attacks on Meandering "Toms."

Unless Commissioner Johnston, who has charge of police regulations, and who will return to the city to-day, cancels the recent amendment to the regulations which provide that the poundmaster shall seize all cats found running at large and destroy them, Washington will be treated this summer to a chance to observe a novel method of eliminating the menace the Health Department believes exists by reason of so many stray cats being loose in the highways and byways of the city.

Dr. W. C. Woodward, District health officer, intends to try the plan of catching the more objectionable cats by means of traps placed in alleys and on various government and District lots. And it is certain that if this plan is pursued these traps are sure to catch some of the unobjectionable and better class of cats, if the latter are allowed to stray.

May Use Rabbit Traps.

"Traps similar to the ordinary rabbit trap," Dr. Woodward said yesterday, "would, I think, probably be suitable for the purpose. There is no question but that there are entirely too many stray cats, carrying diseases, and possibly infected with rabies, running loose in the District."

"I have instructed the poundmaster to look into the question of making a number of traps, and he is now at work on that plan. He will probably place traps in various alleys and on various government and District lots and reservations, so that if cats are caught in them, when they are chained to trees or posts or fences, there can be no question but what they were caught while they were straying and at large."

"There is a mistaken idea that all cats are valuable and should be kept as pets because of their value as rat catchers. I base this remark on information in the Agricultural Department bulletins, which state that only about one cat in a hundred catches a rat, however many catch mice."

CUBA AND MEXICO QUIET.

State Department Gets Reassuring Dispatches from Republics.

In the last forty-eight hours there has occurred a lull in the disturbance going on in the Spanish-American republics, according to dispatches received yesterday at the State Department, which serve as an index to conditions in this troubled part of the world. Admiral Usher, at Guantanamo, and State Department representatives elsewhere in Cuba, reported that all was quiet as far as their districts were concerned. The gunboat Pease had relieved the Nashville at Nipe Bay.

The only disturbance reported from Mexico yesterday was the raiding of a town called Coatepec, near Jalapa, and the release of all the prisoners confined there.

The imminence of a battle at Juarez has not been officially reported to the State Department, and neither that department nor the War Department is contemplating any extraordinary measures in case of a battle about the border city, opposite El Paso, Tex.

PROTEST AGAINST RALPH.

Central Labor Union After Scalp of Director.

Director Ralph, of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, was made the object of a vigorous attack last night at a regular meeting of the Central Labor Union. The members declare they will never be satisfied until a practical printer is put in charge of the bureau, and they adopted resolutions which will be forwarded to the Democratic National Convention, appealing to that party against the alleged misconduct of Mr. Ralph.

The principal speaker at the meeting was Secretary John B. Colpoys, who bitterly arraigned Mr. Ralph before the union, declaring he was satisfied with a practical printer in charge of the bureau, and they adopted resolutions which will be forwarded to the Democratic National Convention, appealing to that party against the alleged misconduct of Mr. Ralph.

LABOR LEADERS ARE SENTENCED

Mitchell, Gompers, and Morrison Declared Guilty of Contempt of Court.

HEAD OF FEDERATION MUST SERVE YEAR

Case Will Be Carried Probably to the United States Supreme Court.

Holding Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; John Mitchell, vice president, and Frank Morrison, secretary, guilty of contempt of court in connection with the alleged violation of the injunction in the Buksa Stone and Range Company case, Justice Wright yesterday imposed sentence on the defendants. Gompers was sentenced to serve one year and Morrison six months. Mitchell not being present, sentence on him was withheld by the court. The sentences are identical with those passed on the labor leaders December 23, 1908.

An appeal was noted from the judgment of contempt and the court fixed the defendants' bonds at $100 each. The case in all probability will go again to the United States Supreme Court. The labor men claim the present prosecution is improperly entitled in equity, and argue that contempt proceedings are criminal, and the subject of criminal procedure. All the judges concurred in the decision.

Referring to the boycott, the court's opinion says:

"There existed not the mere 'letting alone' of the plaintiff and its product, but an affirmative, aggressive, and unlawful concert of attack through threats, menaces, intimidation, offers of violence, and coercion upon and against those who were in business relations with it."

"Lawless Are Teachings."

Referring to the teachings of the respondents, Justice Wright said:

"There is no room for temporizing with these defendants. They are ready to repeat in equally determined fashion the sedition of the past; assurances to the contrary, they themselves have refused."

"In the meeting out of the law's punishment, judicial tribunals are obligated to one principle, and that is to make sufficient example of the offenders in proportion to the gravity of their offenses, as will serve to deter others from offending in like manner; thus establishing in advance, so far as the court may, a universal consciousness that the supremacy of the law so permeates the very atmosphere of the land as to restrain in advance those who are otherwise ready to be transgressors."

"Not elsewhere does the history of jurisprudence contain so bold, so broad, so effectual a contempt of the judicial power of the government as at bar; not before now does history show an instance where the power of established sovereignty was rendered forceless and the law for a case was made to fall in its efforts to secure to an outraged citizen the establishment and vindication of its rights."

In passing sentence on President Gompers, the court said:

"For the ringleader and chief offender, the duty of the court if to be determined by its obligations to administer the justice of the land without respect to persons, requires it in determining a penalty appropriate for the act, the most dangerous and destructive of contempt, at least to parallel the extreme penalty which is fixed by good precedents."
